Working in Partnership with Parents

The school is committed to the importance of the full involvement of parents to enable children with SEN to achieve their potential.

The school will:

- Inform the parents when they first identify that a child has SEN.
- Invite parents to termly review meetings to review progress and set new targets, usually as part of the regular parent's consultation meetings.
- Inform and provide advice for parents regarding the SEN Code of Practice, their child's level of the graduated response model, purpose of intervention and programmes of action.
- Gain written parental permission before referring them to external agencies for support.
- Arrange and or signpost parental workshops/training sessions.

The parents will be asked to:

- Attend termly review meetings to review progress and set new targets.
- Communicate regularly with the school and alert school of any concerns they have about their child's provision.
- Fulfil their home-school agreement obligations.

We believe that partnership with parents plays a key role in promoting a culture of co-operation between the family and school. It is important because we believe that this helps children with special needs to reach their full potential.

Key principles in communicating and working in partnership with parents:

- Acknowledge and draw on parental knowledge of their child.
- Focus in area of strength as well as areas of need.
- Recognise the personal and emotional investments of parents and be aware of their feelings.
- Ensure that parents are fully informed and consulted as soon as a problem has been identified and that they understand procedures.

- Respect the validity of differing views and perspectives and seek constructive ways to reconcile different viewpoints.
- Respect the differing needs parents themselves may have, such as a disability or communication or linguistic barriers.
- Recognise there is a need for flexibility in the timing and structure of meetings.

Parent can receive support through: The Special Educational Needs & Disability Information, Advice and Support Service (SENDIASS) exist to provide parents with information, advice and support about matters relating to their children's special educational needs. This service can help prevent difficulties developing into disagreements. Discussions can take place on the phone or meetings can be arranged. They offer support with preparing for meetings, writing reports and letters, applying for Education, Health and Care (EHC) assessments, as well as signposting to relevant professionals, voluntary organisations and parent support groups. They also offer a range of training to parents and professionals. Additionally they can also offer Independent Support for families applying for an Education, Health and care assessment and families going through the transfer review process.

Pupil participation:

We believe that children who are capable of forming views, have the right to receive and make known information, to express an opinion and be involved in matters affecting them. The views of the child should be given due consideration according to age, maturity and capabilities of the child.

We endeavour to involve the child in the review and target setting processes as well as completing 'one page profiles' and take the opportunity to celebrate achievement and progress.

Admissions arrangements:

Edwinstree Middle School is an educationally inclusive school in which the teaching and learning, achievements and attitudes of every pupil matter.

Application for admission of all pupils with or without official identification of special needs will be fairly considered.

We will not refuse a child on the grounds of their special educational needs. However, Governors may decide that a child cannot be admitted if his/her admission is incompatible with the efficient education of other children.

All parents have the opportunity to discuss their child's difficulties with the Headteacher and/or SENCo. A form is provided on entry to school for parents to list their child's interests and needs.

Inclusion

At Edwinstree, all students irrespective of ability, race, gender or need, are respected and valued as individuals. This is reflected in the schools organisational and curriculum structure, its assessment and rewards systems. Students with SEN/D are integrated and included fully into the life of the school as a whole, including its social and cultural activities.

The school believes that:

- The needs, rights and entitlements of individual students are the focus of both an educational and social environment.
- Staff are entitled to an effective and supportive environment, consistent quality training, an effective learning environment and good quality advice.
- The family and community should work together.

Facilities and provision for those with special needs and /or disability:

Facilities and provisions will be monitored annually as required, referring to the Disability Equality Scheme Action Plan.

There are ramps available to enable access into all areas of the school building. As other needs arise, reasonable adjustments will be made to ensure that disabled pupils have full access and are not at a disadvantage.

There are quiet areas in the school available for individual and group activities where appropriate.

Identification

The school uses the graduated response as outlined in 'The Code of Practice (2014)'.

Transition liaison

Partner schools are visited and contacted throughout the year prior to transfer. Any student registered receiving SEN Support or has an EHC plan is referred to the SENCo. The LA notifies school about students who are transferring with EHC plans. Where practicable, the SENCo attends their Annual Review to ensure a smooth transition is made. At this meeting, the SENCo becomes the Lead Professional for the child with an EHC plan. Relevant information is disseminated to teaching staff before transfer.

Staff Observation

- Members of staff consult with the SENCO if they notice students who may need specialist help during the school year. Evidence for that concern must be produced, prior to any additional intervention being undertaken.
- The SENCO may then ask for additional assessment to be undertaken by other professionals.

Referrals by Parents or Carers

- A child's parent may express concern. Once information is gathered the process is the same as for staff referrals.
- All parental referrals are acted upon.

Definition of Special Educational and/or Disability Needs:

Children have special educational needs if they have a difficulty accessing the curriculum, temporary or more long-term, which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

Pupils have difficulty accessing the curriculum if they:

- Have significant difficulties in learning in comparison with the majority of children of the same age.
- Have a disability, which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for children of the same age.

Pupils who experience difficulty in accessing the curriculum may also have a particular high ability. This will be addressed through high quality teaching, in addition to provisions made for their specific need and recognising that Quality First teaching involves providing the scaffolding to support children to succeed. Special Educational Provision may be triggered when students fail to achieve adequate progress, despite having had access to a differentiated programme. Parents and staff will be informed that the child has special educational needs and appropriate provision identified to meet the child's individual need(s) will be made.

Lack of adequate progress may be indicated by:

- Little or no progress despite the use of targeted teaching approaches and a differentiated curriculum.
- Working at levels significantly below age expectations, particularly in Literacy or Numeracy.
- Presenting persistent emotional and / or behavioural difficulties, which have not been managed by appropriate strategies usually employed.
- Sensory or physical impairments that result in little progress despite the provision of appropriate aids or equipment.
- Poor communication or interaction, requiring specific interactions and adaptations to access learning.

There are four categories of special needs:

- Communication and interaction
- Cognition and learning
- Social, emotional and mental health.
- Sensory and/or physical needs

Children may present with more than one category of special needs.

Provision

Teaching pupils with SEN/D is a whole school response. Central to the work of every teacher is a continuous cycle of planning, teaching, assessment and evaluation that takes account of the wide range of abilities, aptitudes and interests of the students. The majority of pupils Edwinstree learn and progress through these differentiated arrangements. A Graduated Response is adopted for students identified as having SEN/D. A level and type of support is provided to enable the student to achieve adequate progress. Provision is identified by collaboration between the class teacher, SENCO, teaching assistants and where relevant parents but will be planned and delivered by teaching and support staff.

Graduated Response

Wave 1 – Quality First teaching by all teaching staff.

Wave 2 - Is initiated where students have failed to make adequate progress as identified by class teacher and SENCo through analysis of the assessment data.

Criteria for Wave 2 include:

- Minimal progress in Numeracy / Literacy.
- Teachers' observations.
- Concerns from staff or parents

Provision from within the school's resources is identified to help meet the student's needs. See attached provision map for a list of interventions available at wave 2.

Wave 3: Where students fail to make adequate progress, despite additional provision at Wave 2, the school seeks advice and involvement from external support services. They are requested to:

- Provide specialist assessments.
- Give advice on teaching strategies or materials.
- Provide short-term support or training for staff.

The pupil SEN Profile is revised and new strategies are put in place following the involvement of the pupil and parents. Should the assessments identify that the student requires additional provision on a regular basis for an extended period then the school will apply for additional resources. The application will be evaluated against criteria established by the LA.

Statutory Assessment

If a student fails to make adequate progress and has demonstrated a significant cause for concern, the school and / or a parent / carer may decide to request that the LA undertakes a statutory assessment. This may lead to the student being provided with an EHC plan. The SENCo is responsible, on a daily basis, for ensuring that the educational support stipulated in the EHC plan is provided, they will also liaise with external agencies to ensure that they provide the targeted support allocated within the EHC plan. The process of target setting, monitoring and reviewing remains the same as at Wave 2 and Teaching Assistants are fully involved.

Pupil SEN profiles and Reviews

The strategies that will be employed at Wave 2, Wave 3 and for students with EHC plans are recorded in the SEN/D profile, reflecting provision that is additional to, or different from, normal differentiated provision. All pupils receiving support under wave 3 or who have not responded to wave 2 support will be placed on the SEN/D register after consultation with parents and will be provided with a SEN/D profile. All pupils will have their SEN/D profile closely monitored.

Contents of the SEN/D profile include:

- An outline of the pupil's specific needs and abilities.
- Teaching strategies to be used.
- Additional provision to be put in place.
- Impact of additional provision.

- Data referring to attainment and specific needs.
- Pupil targets.
- Relevant information from professional reports.
- A record of all visits from external agencies.
- A record of any applications for ENF.
- A record of requests made for external advice/support.
- A record of any TAF meetings.
- Evidence of the Assess, Plan, Do, Review cycle.

The pupil SEN profile is communicated to all staff who support the student's learning, and to the parents or carers. Pupil profiles are constantly reviewed and updated with current assessment data, impact of interventions observations and future concerns. They also form part of the formal review process where teachers, parents and pupils (when appropriate) review existing targets and collaboratively set new targets. Children with EHC plans are delivered the necessary curriculum in accordance with the objectives and targets set out on the EHC plan. Children with SEN profiles will also have tasks and activities set for them to help them meet their targets as part of their ongoing curriculum.

When a child is known to have complex needs such as medical, emotional, behavioural, social and academic, it may be beneficial to start a Family First Assessment for that child and family. This will involve the completion of an assessment on the Early Help Module System and the setting up of regular TAF (Team Around the Family) meetings which will include all adults/agencies involved with that child. A Lead Professional will be appointed (usually the Head Teacher, SENCo or Health representative) to lead the meetings.

Funding and organisation of support for a child with an EHC plan

For most children with an EHC plan, funding for extra individual provision will come from the school's allocated budget for predictable needs.

Assessment, monitoring and review:

We regularly assess all children using school based, County and National criteria. This assessment informs our planning and teaching and ensures the provision of effective opportunities for all children.

- Herts for Learning Assessment for years 5, and 7.
- Key Stage 2 statutory SATs as well as Hertfordshire assessment criteria are used in year 6.
- The school assessment criteria based on a further step to the Hertfordshire assessment criteria and in liaison and agreement with Freman College curriculum requirements..

Termly, mid-year and end of year teacher assessments are made and targets set for every child using the Herts Curriculum levels.

LA data is used to monitor and compare our performance with that of other schools. We would expect all children, including pupils with special educational needs, to make progress.

All pupils' progress is under constant review by the class teacher and the senior leadership team. The SENCo observes, monitors and tracks all the children on the SEN register using information from teacher assessment, direct observation and teaching. Each term class teachers within their key stage teams plan Wave 2 and 3 intervention groups to reflect the special educational needs of the children in their class. These wave groups then run throughout the week, planned for by the teacher and led by a teaching assistant. A child may be in more than one wave group and children can move in and out of groups according to need.

The SEND Governor is kept informed of the progress of children on the SEND register. The children's progress, results and levels are passed to the receiving teacher at the end of the school year and discussions held between staff.

The integration and accessibility of the curriculum for Pupils with SEND

We integrate all pupils into the normal class situation where the majority of teaching and learning takes place, wherever possible. All teachers will offer differentiated work within the framework of the National Curriculum to help meet the needs of all children.

Staff development:

Opportunities are provided for all staff and Governors to develop their abilities to support the individual needs of the children in their care. Courses and training is offered when appropriate and as funding allows matched to the school development plan. Staff training will be monitored and reported to Governors.

Enquiries and Complaints:

We will try to ensure that parents are aware of the support available and the procedures for enquiries and complaints. The SEND Policy will be available to all parents as well as the school's SEN Information Report which is available through the school's website.

The school aims to co-operate with and be open to parental views about their child's provision. Parents are considered to be active partners in their child's education. The school will discuss the child's progress, listen to parental concern and work with parents to ensure a relevant education programme for their child.

In cases of complaint, parents are encouraged to deal with their child's class teacher in the first instance. The SENCo may also be involved if appropriate. The class teacher and the SENCo will liaise with the Headteacher who may meet with the parents. If the matter is still not resolved the Governors will become involved.

There are arrangements for considering complaints formally and copies of the procedure, as recommended by the LA can be obtained from the school.

Records will be kept of all enquiries and complaints and will be reviewed by the Headteacher and SENCo, reporting to Governing Body when appropriate.

Parents also have the right of appeal to the SEND Tribunal within the LA.

PARTNERSHIPS BEYOND SCHOOL

The school aims to work in partnership with other agencies in order to provide integrated support based on the needs of an individual pupil. The main external support agencies used include (this is not an exhaustive list):

- Educational psychologist.
- The Child and Mental Health Service (CAMHS).

- Specialist and advisory teachers.
- Physiotherapist and Occupational Therapist.
- Speech and language service.
- Social/care worker.
- Rivers ESC outreach.
- Amwellview outreach.
- Child and family consultation service.
- The attendance improvement officer.
- Hertfordshire Specific Learning Difficulties Outreach Service.
- School Nurse.
- Health visitor.
- Consultant Physicians and Paediatricians.

We welcome outside agencies and aim to work closely with them to enhance the learning and performance of our children with SEND.

Transfer Arrangements

- All documentation about special needs included in a pupil's record is transferred between schools. The SENCo deals with specific enquires.
- Additional induction days are arranged as required for all pupils with SEN/D and vulnerability.
- A copy of Pupils' SEN Profiles are kept on the school computer system for 1 academic year after they leave Edwinstree in case there are any queries from the receiving school. Once records have reached the end of their administrative life they will be disposed and the school will maintain a list of records which have been destroyed and who authorised their destruction as set out in The Freedom of Information Act 2000.

Compliance

This policy complies with the statutory requirement laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 0 – 25 (July 2014) 3.65 and has been written with reference to the following guidance and documents:
